

J. Edgar Hoover Gives Views on What Church Can Do to Curb Delinquency

EDITOR'S NOTE: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, speaking both as a law enforcement officer and as a prominent lay churchman who has served as an elder of the National Presbyterian Church in Washington, wrote this dispatch in answer to this question from the United Press: "How can a local church help to combat juvenile delinquency in its community?"

By J. EDGAR HOOVER, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Written for United Press

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—What is needed today is an extension of the influence of the church into every home and to make the church the center of the family so that it may hold the place it once had as the wellspring of community activity.

Many of our present problems of delinquency and crime would disappear if the good influence of the church was made available on a broader scale seven days a week, 24 hours a day, to all who seek its guidance.

The greatest measure of the church is, of course, in its primary activity of teaching people loyalty to God's law. Churches opening at 11 o'clock one morning a week miss their full potential just as do those without dynamic programs of counsel and guidance for their members. Those churches having constructive programs covering phases of every day living available on a round-the-clock basis make their spiritual guidance an integral factor in community life.

Church sponsored child guidance programs, family counsels, educational forums, social programs for every age group as well as for the whole family, recreational pursuits and supervised competitive athletic leagues give constructive outlets for inextinguishable energies of youth and competent guidance for adult members. The by-products of family unity and fellowship follow wherever such positive steps are taken by our churches in influencing the community.

It is encouraging to know that church membership is increasing and that more than 60 per cent of Americans are members of religious bodies. While church contributions total approximately 1.2 billion dollars annually, crime costs $20 billion dollars—for each $1.00 contributed to our churches, crime costs $13—which is very discouraging.

Active support of our churches will defeat the crass materialism eating away the strength of our people and when faithfully practiced will give moral tone supernaturalizing our actions.

Bulganin, in London, Again Talks Up Peace

Asserts Cold War
Tension Relaxing
Between East, West

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (U.P.)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin appealed again today for peaceful co-existence between East and West. He noted that there have been some recent relaxations of cold war tensions.

Bulganin made his plea at a mansion house lunch just 24 hours after a speech by Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev at a Soviet embassy lunch in which he said flatly that "peaceful co-existence" is the only course for future East-West relations.

"We believe that an improvement of relations and the development of ties and contacts must be gradual and carried out only step by step," Bulganin said. "Time is needed for this, but we hope that our visit here will lay a good beginning for friendship and co-operation based on the great principle of peaceful co-existence."

The Bulganin plea came after a morning session at No. 10 Downing Street between the Soviet leaders and British officials headed by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. The conference was the second formal meeting of the "little summit talks" being held during the 10-day Soviet visit.

The goateed Soviet premier was a little less blunt than Khrushchev, who delivered a sharp warning that Moscow will bow to no pressure to abandon communism, but he was equally firm. His listeners included Eden and a large gathering of British statesmen.

Following the lunch which was given by the city of London in honor of the visiting Russians, the British and Soviet government chiefs returned to Downing Street for their third formal meeting.

Miraculous Mine Rescue

Three Given Up As Dead Saved From Utah Pit

One Still Missing
Feared Crushed
Or Suffocated

By DAVE DUGAS

United Press Staff Correspondent
SUNNYSIDE, Utah (U.P.)—Three miners, once given up as dead, today were rescued from the mine where they had been trapped a day and a half.

A fourth miner, Joe Otterstrom, 58, father of seven children, still was missing. It was feared he had been crushed or suffocated under tons of rock and coal that cascaded into the mine Wednesday.

The three rescued miners—Lavell M. Golding, Lloyd A. Heath and Joseph A. Archuleta—were reported "okay and in good spirits."

Their rescue was a "million to one" chance, mine experts said. Searchers, however, feared that the luck that blessed Golding, Heath and Archuleta had missed Otterstrom.

Hope Had Vanished

Thursday afternoon rescue workers were convinced that hope for all four was gone. They even used dynamite—never employed if there is a chance someone is below the debris of a cave-in—to fight their way into the clogged entry.

Families of the entombed men, accepting what they considered the final word, had left the Sunnyside tunnel portals and gone home to prepare memorial services and to await recovery of the bodies.

About 10:30 p. m. Thursday, the 30-man crew blasting atop the rubble heard a faint tapping—the distress signal of underground miners.

All work halted momentarily until the direction of the signals was determined.

Then, with more care than ever, the rescuers mucked through rock and coal until they could shout to the men and hear their replies.

Golding Out First

Golding, 39, father of four, identified himself. Next Archuleta, 43, father of one, and Heath, 36, father of three, responded. To the call for Otterstrom, there was only silence.

By 4 a. m., Golding had been pulled through the narrow emergency tunnel dug to the working face of the entry where falling slabs had arched over the front of the compartment to protect the men.

Golding was carefully hauled out on a "man car" through a safety exit and taken to Permanente hospital at nearby Dragerton. Attendants said they were permitted only to say his condition was good and "spirits high."

Archuleta was out at 6:05 a. m. and in the hospital a short time later. Rescue workers—shoveling by hand and with a mechanical mucker—reached Heath about 6:45 a. m.

Word of the miraculous rescue flashed to the homes in Sunnyside, Dragerton and Wellington where the 200 men who labor in the Sunnyside mines live. Families rushed back to the tunnel and to the hospital for tear-spattered reunions.

Only in the homes of Otterstrom and his children was there sadness.

Equipment Protects Them
Heath said he took refuge under the boom of the mechanical "continuous miner" when he heard the roof starting to fall. Golding and Archuleta hid under a mechanical loader. The two machines helped form the arch that protected them.

It was Heath, tapping on the steel "miner" with a pair of pliers, who gave the rescue-spurring signals.

Dr. James McClintock, mine physician who joined the rescue parties shortly after 10 p. m., said he considered the condition of the men "remarkable...unbelievable." Heath was unhurt. Golding had a minor head laceration. Archuleta may lose parts of two fingers.

When he was taken from the tunnel, Heath—his face black but his eyes shining—was asked how he felt.

"Fine now," he smiled.

Road Boss Burned Badly When Naphtha On Clothing Ignites

George Sisk, who lives in the "Slave House" in Gallatin county and is foreman of a state highway stripping crew, was seriously burned Wednesday afternoon in an accident near Thompsonville.

He was taken to Ferrell hospital in Eldorado. It was believed most serious burns were to his chest and arms.

Reports were that the crew had just finished its day's work of painting a line down the highway and was using naphtha to clean out the painting equipment. Sisk got some on his clothing.

A few minutes later the crew ignited a blaze to burn off a paint strainer and the flame jumped to Sisk's clothing.

Fellow workers rolled Sisk to the ground and tore off his clothing. State Policeman Guthrie Alexander, who was at the scene rushed Sisk to the hospital.

The Court of Myles Standish Fines Him

NASHUA, N. H. (U.P.)—Myles Standish spoke for himself Thursday. He pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and was fined $50.

The 27-year-old airman said he was a direct descendant of the fellow of the same name who sent John Alden to do his courting a couple of centuries ago.

Jockey for Soil Bank Pay Credit

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Congressional Democrats and Republicans maneuvered today to get credit for any soil bank payments which farmers receive in this election year.

House Democrats suddenly promised to give President Eisenhower promptly the money he wants for the soil bank plan. But they insisted that he operate the program under an old law which the Democrats originated in 1935.

The move was seen as an attempt to convince farmers that it was the Democrats who thought up the basic idea of a soil bank, which now has become a key part of Mr. Eisenhower's farm program. But Republicans insisted that money alone is not enough to put the plan into operation. They said a new law is needed.

The surprise Democratic maneuver came Thursday when the Democratic-controlled House Appropriations committee approved $1.2 billion in funds for the soil bank. The committee at a secret, hurriedly called session, voted 36 to 7 for the funds, and House leaders scheduled action on the appropriations for next week, probably Wednesday.

Millions of Feet Of Natural Gas Piped at Eldorado

Approximately two and a half million cubic feet of natural gas is being picked up daily in the North Eldorado oil field and transmitted to the Big Inch line of Texas Eastern Transmission company, it has been announced.

The gas gathering system, containing about 12 miles of pipe, was put into operation March 25 and the amount of gas sent through the lines has increased steadily. Plans call for 5 million cubic feet of gas to be transmitted daily when the plant is in full operation.

A spokesman has stated the gas is much more moist than anticipated and from 500 to 600 gallons of liquid are being stored each week from the gas. Storage tanks have been erected near the end of the system, about a mile from where the lines enter the Big Inch line and trucks haul away the liquid product.

It was known there would be some liquid and drip tanks were installed and original plans called for the blowing away of the liquid two or three times weekly. However, there was so much liquid that it was safe to blow it into the air and the large storage tanks were put in place.

Margaret's Wedding Rehearsed

By MARGARET RICHARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (U.P.)—Margaret Truman and Clifton Daniel rehearse their wedding ceremony today in the tiny Episcopal Church where they will be married Saturday.

The daughter of former President Truman and her New York newspaperman fiancée planned for the rehearsal late this afternoon to take place behind closed doors in the church where Miss Truman's parents were married 37 years ago.

Both Miss Truman and Daniel have stayed within the privacy of the Truman home since his arrival by air from New York Thursday.

Daniel was an overnight guest in the Truman home. Earlier he met many of Miss Truman's relatives at an "informal family dinner" of fried chicken and frozen lemon pie. No newsmen or outsiders were admitted to the Truman home during the pre-wedding festivities.

They have said several times they want only a "small, quiet wedding."

The best man, Ted Marks, said he believed Margaret's wedding would follow almost the same quiet pattern as the one which joined Mr. and Mrs. Truman on June 28, 1919. He described that ceremony as a "very quiet, simple affair where not a lot of fuss was made."

The single-ring service to be performed at 4 p. m. CST Saturday, will follow the Episcopal Common Book of Prayer, which even prescribes the ways the hands are to be joined.

Jones Burial at 4:30 Sunday at Galatia

Funeral arrangements for G. H. (Herman) Jones, former resident of Galatia who died at Pinckneyville Wednesday, will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church in Pinckneyville. The body will then be returned to Galatia for burial at 4:30 p. m. Sunday at Webber Campground cemetery. The casket will be opened at the cemetery.

The body after 2 p. m. Saturday will lie in state at the Pyatt funeral home in Pinckneyville.

Scouts to Pick Paper Saturday, If No Rain

Weather permitting, there will be a waste paper collection in Harrisburg Saturday morning, starting at 8 o'clock, sponsored by Troop 23 of the Boy Scouts.

An organization of six trucks and drivers, 40 scouts to collect the paper and six men to operate the baling equipment has been perfected.

Persons of Harrisburg are asked to have their paper ready for the collection and it is hoped the collection can be completed by noon. The collection was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but the heavy morning rains upset the plans.

Attending the meeting were bankers from the Harrisburg National and First National of Harrisburg, the First State and Burnett's in Eldorado and the Saline County State bank, Stonefort; also members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Harrisburg and the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce in Eldorado.

Mr. Hastings spoke of the opportunities in the area and urged everyone to favorably publicize southern Illinois, especially the tourist attractions.

The speaker also stated the Small Business Institute would co-operate in every way possible with business in southern Illinois and would obtain speakers and instructors to conduct classes in advertising, merchandising, salesmanship and etc.

Approximately 60 attended the meeting. The dinner was served by women of the Presbyterian church.

Royal Yacht Sails for Honeymoon

VILLEFRANCHE, France (U.P.)—Princess Grace and Prince Rainier sailed today toward Spain on their Mediterranean honeymoon.

Friends predicted she would return to pictures within a year if a baby does not intervene.

The royal couple apparently spent their wedding night aboard Rainier's yacht Deo Juvante II anchored in a peaceful cove just 100 yards offshore from the prince's villa on Cap Ferrat, 10 miles from Monaco.

The flower-bedecked yacht rode out of Monaco harbor Thursday but it encountered rough going and high winds and Rainier headed for Villefranche's quiet harbor.

Almost before the yacht was out of sight of the thousands who jammed the waterfront to see the couple depart, Grace's friends were predicting a return to the movies for the Hollywood queen.

Close friends said Grace believed at first that being a princess was a full-time job but that she was now intrigued by the idea of making a movie whose locale would be Monaco or whose story would be Monaco.

"I think she'll be back in pictures within a year, unless a baby intervenes," said a friend.

Tension Along Israel, Jordan Border Mounts

Dag Hammarskjold
Still Trying to Alleviate Situation

JERUSALEM (Israeli Sector) (U.P.)—The crisis in the Middle East between Israel and its Arab neighbors flared again today despite the peace-making efforts of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Both Israel and Jordan accused the other of border violations and an Israeli spokesman said "tension is mounting" along the border.

Both sides protested to the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission about an alleged incident that occurred Wednesday. Today, Col. Nehemia Brosh, Israel's chief military spokesman, reported another incident. He said that early Thursday Jordanian forces again opened fire from Israeli territory at an Israeli military car moving along a highway north of Bet Govrin. He said the passengers returned the fire, but there were no casualties.

Accusation and Denial

An Egyptian military spokesman accused Israel of violating the cease fire agreement reached only Thursday by Hammarskjold by sending planes over Egyptian territory. He said three Israeli war-planes flew over the Egyptian-held Gaza strip today.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman in Jerusalem denied a "utterly false" Egyptian allegation that Israel had violated the cease fire agreement.

The statement was phrased in such a way that it was not immediately clear if it referred to the reported plane incursions or to other incidents.

Israel reported the border with Egypt quiet, but an Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo said Israeli planes had flown over Gaza each day since the cease fire went into effect at 6 p. m. Wednesday.

The violation, if confirmed, would be the first reported by either side.

Evidence Gathered

U. N. truce supervisor Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns gathered evidence on the Israel-Jordan clash as Hammarskjold prepared to meet again with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett.

The report of the Israeli-Jordan clash underscored the reserve with which Western powers greeted the Israeli-Egyptian cease fire. They noted it was only a step toward a permanent peace in the Middle East, although a big one.

Hammarskjold planned to leave Lydda Airport for Beirut, Lebanon, tonight after his talk with Israeli leaders. Then he will visit the Jordanian capital of Amman and the Syrian capital of Damascus before heading back to New York via Cairo.

Armory Planned for West Frankfort

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The state hopes to have Army approval by June 30 of architects' plans for a new state armory at West Frankfort, Ill., Adj. Gen. Leo M. Boyle said Thursday.

Boyle said bids will be let for construction of the armory, and others at Litchfield, Effingham and Freeport, after the Army approves the plans.

He said architects expected to have the West Frankfort plans ready to send to Washington for Army approval by May 30.

The federal government has authorized spending a maximum of $230,000 each for the four armories, with the federal government to pay 75 per cent of the total cost and the state 25 per cent.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By BREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Congressmen Moss Blames
Newsmen For Not Helping Him Fight Censorship; Some
Washington Newsmen Are Loath To Tangle With Officials.

WASHINGTON. — The American Society of Newspaper Editors, meeting in Washington this week, will be interested in the findings of Congressman John Moss, the diligent California Democrat who, more than any other public official, has been digging into press censorship.

Moss took a trip to Europe last summer to ascertain whether American newsmen overseas are having trouble getting news from American diplomats and generals. He found that most correspondents feared reprisals if they criticized the officials on whom they depend for stories.

"I found," says Moss, "that it's hard to get newspaper people to put their experiences in writing."

Back in Washington Moss has also had a hard time getting newsmen to cooperate. He got excellent tips from them personally and orally, but they didn't want to testify or stick their necks out in any way that might bring retaliation from government officials or close up their news sources.

Note — Moss has tried to keep politics out of his censorship investigation. He says Republicans aren't to blame for the growing suppression of news about government. Nor are the Democrats.

SELF NEWS SUPPRESSION
Several recent news incidents have occurred to support Congressman Moss that in his belief some newsmen are not inclined to buck censorship.

On March 20, for instance, Merriman Smith, dean of the White House correspondents, wrote a short item for release by the United Press on March 22 that President Eisenhower was overheard to remark, apropos of a second term:

"I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate."

Between the time this story was written and the date of release, wires began to buzz around the White House and the UP office in Washington. Jim Hagerly, the able, all-seeing White House press secretary, was alerted. Suddenly, Lyle Wilson, UP vice president in charge of the Washington bureau, ordered the story killed.

Leamington

The Leamington Home Bureau unit met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Geneva Lackey with 12 members answering roll call. Members present were Mrs. Rosetta Colbert, Mrs. Lela Elliott, Mrs. Jewell Brinkley, Mrs. Ella Colbert, Mrs. Evra Thacker, Mrs. Charlene Martin, Mrs. Wanda Brown, Mrs. Ethel Moore, Mrs. Ann Dempsey, Mrs. Janice Thacker, Mrs. Beulah Dempsey and hostess, Mrs. Geneva Lackey and three visitors, Mrs. Bessie Fugate, Mrs. Nigel Whitehead and Mrs. Hester Kugler.

Mr. and Mrs. Rube Fuhr and son, Butchie, called on Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fuhr Saturday.

Mrs. Rosie Colbert and son, Ronnie, and Mrs. Dorothy Williams and children called on Mrs. Laura Fuhr Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gowan Jr. and children visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Mills and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Dason and children of Evansville visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Williams and Mary Ann. In the afternoon they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Williams for a short visit.

Mrs. Naomi Gowan and Mrs. Ethel Gowan were in West Frankfort Friday visiting with Mrs. Louise Grinswald.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Dillard and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Paul Potter while Tuesday night. Those who met Wednesday and quitted were Lola Bentley, Ella Colbert, Ethel Gowan, Virgie Baldwin, Juanita Potter, Elsie Patton, Laura Fuhr and Naomi Gowan and daughters.

Mrs. Millie Benham spent Monday with Mrs. Herman Bentley. J. L. Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Colbert called on Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Milligan Saturday.

The story ran in early editions of the Washington News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper whose executives own or control the United Press, which indicates that editors and publishers are not always the guilty ones when it comes to voluntary censorship.

Wilson, explaining the kill, said he had ordered it because it was overheard as the President passed down a White House corridor, and "it was impossible to determine to whom the President was talking."

Merriman Smith reiterated that the story was accurate. In reporting it, of course, he was fully aware of current Washington reports that the President really does not want to run again and might step down from office later.

MEDICINE AND TAXES

It's hard to believe, but Internal Revenue has granted tax exemption to a clinic that the Food and Drug Administration has accused of peddling quack cures.

Food and Drug brought legal action forcing the Electronic Medical Foundation to stop selling an electrical contraption in interstate commerce which was supposed to cure a host of ailments, but which Food and Drug charged was medically worthless. At the same time this agency stopped the clinic from selling the gadget. Internal Revenue made the same clinic tax-exempt.

One satisfied user of this electrical cure-all is Mrs. Ezra Benson, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture. Mrs. Benson liked it so well that she persuaded her husband to use his influence with the Food and Drug Administration. Good-natured Secretary Benson dutifully wrote a letter to Food and Drug, praising the gadget. In the end, the agency relied on the advice of medical experts and banned shipments in interstate commerce.

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL

at a price that will open your eyes
(and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one.

It's a 1956 Buick SPECIAL—which means, of course, it's a big car.

But look again at the price news it carries.

It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones.

To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much more pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

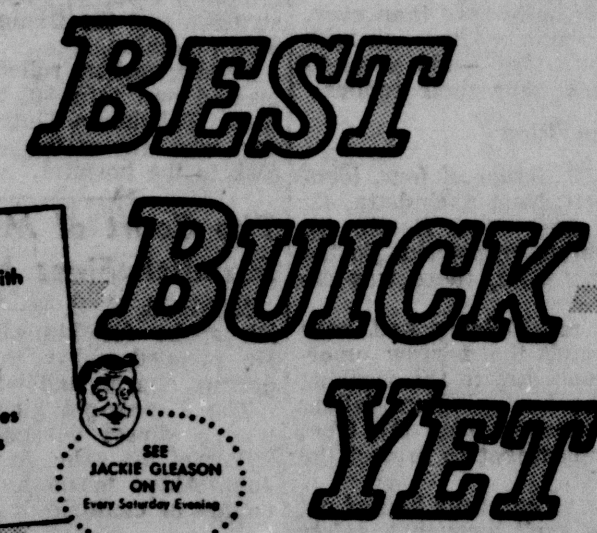

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

OLIVER
"FINEST IN FARM MACHINERY"

Pocket 44¢ every hour!

That's the sort of fuel savings you can make with an Oliver diesel, doing this kind of work. Here's how it figures:

Pulling four bottoms, a gasoline tractor will burn some four gallons an hour. The Oliver diesel, about two and a half. What's gas worth where you live? And diesel fuel? At average prices, the saving comes to 44¢ an hour. With you, it might be less, it might be more—a saving of two-thirds the fuel cost is not unusual.

Size? Name it! Oliver—and only Oliver—offers you dollar-saving diesel power in six wheel tractor sizes. And remember, your Oliver diesel requires no extra engine for starting. No special fuel. Just step on the starter and go to work.

150 SIU Students Practice Teaching

A record number of 150 students at Southern Illinois university are practicing teaching in public schools during the spring quarter, according to Dr. Charles D. Neal, director of teacher training at SIU.

Most of the future teachers are conducting classes at University School, Southern's laboratory school. Part time teaching is one of the final steps for students seeking SIU bachelor of education degrees.

Harrisburg students in practice teaching are Albert Hancock at the Marion high school, Margie Rector at the Lincoln school in Carbondale and Jack Stanley at West Frankfort high school.

Jean Tate RFD 1, Galatia, is teaching at University school, Carbondale and Nancy Crickman, Stanley Evans and Grattena Hill, all of Eldorado, are also teaching at University School.

Freighters Collide, Ore Carrier Sunk

ALGONAC, Mich. (AP) — Two giant Great Lake freighters collided head-on in the St. Clair River Thursday night, sinking one and disabling the other.

Coast Guard officials could give no explanation for the crash which sunk the heavily-laden 504-foot ore carrier A. M. Byers to its main deck in 17 minutes. The 406-foot cement boat E. M. Ford was knocked out of commission and tied up at nearby Russell Island.

Electric Toaster Poor Place for Hibernation

Max Ish quickly found the trouble—a two-foot dead gopher snake inside.

The Angry Hills

By Leon M. Uris
© 1955 by Leon M. Uris. Used by arrangement with Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA.

THE STORY: Mike Morrison, an American caught by the German invasion of Greece in 1941 knows the contents of a coded list of Underground leaders. Konrad Heiler, the German agent, is seeking Morrison, who is now hiding in the hills with the family of Christos Yalouris. Mike desperately wants to go to Athens where he can arrange to get out of the country—if the Germans do not catch him first.

XIV

Konrad Heiler slipped his Scotch and water. The fat Greek, Zervos, sat next to him, ruffled and drowsy. Heiler looked across the broad polished table at the defiant fisherman named Maxos.

Maxos glared back at Heiler. His bulging muscles rippled thru a tight-knit navy-blue sweater. His massive arms were almost black from years of whipping winds and burning sun. His face was square and hard and his hair fell in black ringlets and from his right ear hung a small circular gold earring.

Maxos was angry because he had been snatched from his boat by Zervos on the Isle of Kea. Maxos did not care whether Mr. Heiler found whom he was looking for or if he did not find whom he was looking for. For Maxos was half fish, and away from his boat he was a fish out of water.

"All right," Heiler said. "Tell me the story once more."

Maxos sighed. "I can go to my boat then?"

"Perhaps," Maxos grumbled again. "I was in a waterfront saloon in Nauplion drinking and minding my own business. I had just returned with a catch of fine fish. A man should mind his own business."

Heiler ignored the rebuff. He was more interested that Maxos was in the saloon the same night Morrison jumped the prison train near Nauplion.

"A man was at the next table to me, drinking. He was minding his own business, too."

"You say you do not know who this man was?"

"I had seen him before about four months ago in the same saloon. He was a crewman from a boat that came from Larissa Province. He was dressed like a Larissa farmer and spoke with that accent, too."

"You did not meet this man personally?"

"I tell you a hundred times I did not."

"Continue with your story."

"As I said—his boat came once before. Four months ago."

"What do you know about this boat?"

"Only that it was trading grain and tobacco and many other things, probably stolen. I do not trade with such people."

"You were drinking—and minding your own business—then what happened?"

"A second man comes into the saloon and tells the man who is drinking he must return to the boat. The man who is drinking does not want to return. Then the second man tells him to talk quiet. They had taken a passenger aboard and had to leave Nauplion at once. That is all. They leave and I mind my own business. Next day I go out again with my boat until he," pointing to Zervos, "comes to me on Kea and begins asking me all sorts of questions."

The presence of British escapees in Paieachora became an open secret. Food supplies were running low in the big cities and every train to Dadi, the nearest terminal, brought city people scouring the countryside in search for food. They carried possessions, many of great value, to trade for wheat and other staples.

Christos and the other farmers were quick to capitalize on this tragic situation. Wheat went at fabulous price. When inflation made money almost worthless, barter became the means of exchange. Christos, as owner of the mill, hit upon a windfall. In return for wheat and other food products, he acquired possession of a half dozen properties in Athens.

Mike argued bitterly against this, but Christos reckoned he was doing the city folk a favor by keeping them alive. He added that the city people had always considered the farmer a second-class citizen and had cheated him for years. Within a few weeks after the British collapse in Greece, hundreds of escapees roved all over the country and were accepted by the people with open arms. Even in the cities the people were sharing the last loaf of bread with escapees.

This situation became a major headache for the Germans. Even in their position of helplessness, the British gave hope to the people by their mere presence. Violent countermeasures were taken. Spies were planted, bribes were offered, traps were set, threats were made. The Germans began using British turncoats as bait. Then came the announcement that any village found harboring an escapee would be burned to the ground. Still the British escaped and still the people took them in.

It all added up to one thing for Mike. His fool's paradise was truly a fool's paradise. Sooner or later some child would talk to one of the Italian "tourists."

The weaker ones were buckling under the effects of increased taxation and favored keeping the escapees moving. The majority favored resistance and believed it a sacred duty to shelter the escapees.

But Paleachora was getting tense. Mike no longer enjoyed the visits to the coffee house. The arguments raged far into the night. Then, one day, suspicion and whispers supplanted song and dance when a nearby village was burned to the ground. Several families were suspected of having turned collaborators.

OUR DEFINITION of a good car deal is:

2. A Car That Has Been Honestly Serviced
3. A Car That Has Been Honestly Financed

You should at least check these three items before you call it a good car deal.

We do not advertise that we will sell you a car with nothing down and forever to pay . . . we do not offer you something for nothing and we offer no gimmicks, no come-ons. But we do offer you a GOOD car deal. We just ask that you with the other deals you have been offered.

Now, we are not the oldest and biggest dealer in the world, but we have been selling Dodge cars in Harrisburg since 1915, and if you look around you can see that people DO buy Dodge and Plymouth cars. You will also find a lot of people driving Dodge and Plymouth cars who could well afford to buy higher priced cars if they wanted them.

If you are planning to buy a 1956 model, we believe that you owe it to yourself to come in and investigate the 1956 Dodge and Plymouth. Please feel free to come in and look. We do not use any high pressure methods that would annoy you, and we do promise you a GOOD CAR DEAL.

Seek County Sales Tax For Areas Not Incorporated

SPRINGFIELD (U)—The Illinois Association of County Officials scheduled a vote today on proposals for a one-half cent county sales tax and a state income tax. A resolution calling for the county sales tax was presented to county supervisors attending the association's 69th annual convention Thursday by the St. Clair County Board. The supervisors accepted the resolution and passed it on for a vote today by the full association. The state income tax resolution was also presented to the supervisors by Winnebago county delegates for consideration by the full convention. The county sales tax resolution called for the 1957 Legislature to give county boards power to levy a one-half cent tax in unincorporated areas to match the city sales tax approved by the 1955 Legislature.

Du Quoin Packing Workers Strike Near End of First Week

DU QUOIN, Ill. (U)—The strike of 222 production workers at the Du Quoin Packing Co. today neared the end of its first week. No negotiations were scheduled between the company and Local 156 of the United Packinghouse Workers. The workers set up picket lines in Du Quoin last Saturday night and the strike idled some 80 other workers at the plant. Federal Labor Mediator A. M. Thompson of Marion met with company and union representatives earlier this week but no negotiation session was arranged. The strikers asked wage increases ranging from 23 to 87 cents an hour. The company's last announced offer was 15 cents per hour for all production workers.

Girl, 3, on Tracks, Train Manages to Halt Few Feet Away

CHICAGO (U)—The railroad train was coming right at 3-year-old Peggy Gallagher, but she did not seem to mind. There she stood in the center of the Chicago and North Western tracks Thursday, staring unblinkingly at the oncoming engine. Engineer Howard E. Yarbrough slammed on the brakes. The suburban screeched to a halt, a few feet away from the little girl. A crewman swung off and took Peggy aboard. They deposited her at the suburban Glenview station and police set out to find Peggy's mother. They found her cruising slowly in her car, looking for the little girl. She had left her in the auto while she stepped into a grocery store, and Peggy had decided to take a walk. Peggy broke into a wide grin when her mother, Mrs. Nancy Gallagher, arrived at the station. "Mommy!" she shouted. "I saw a choo-choo!"

Search Cave After Reports Trio Lost But Find Nothing

SCOTTSBORO, Ala. (U)—Explorers were given a workout today in a "search" for three persons thought to have been missing in vast Whistling Cave near here. The Huntsville, Ala., Speleological Society covered the five miles of the limestone cavern without finding a trace of anyone. The search was started when a note, written on tissue, was found deep inside the cave. Dated last Tuesday, it had the word "lost" on one side and on the other "George, one light left. R. S. April 14."

Tom Hooper, a member of the society, said a man came to him for help Thursday, saying he was returning to the cave to search for his companions. He gave their names as James Mann, John Wilson and Ray Smith, of Nashville, Tenn.

There was a report the men may have been Vanderbilt university students but a check of records there showed that the only students named John Wilson and Ray Smith were still on the campus and had not been to the cave. There was no James Mann on the register.

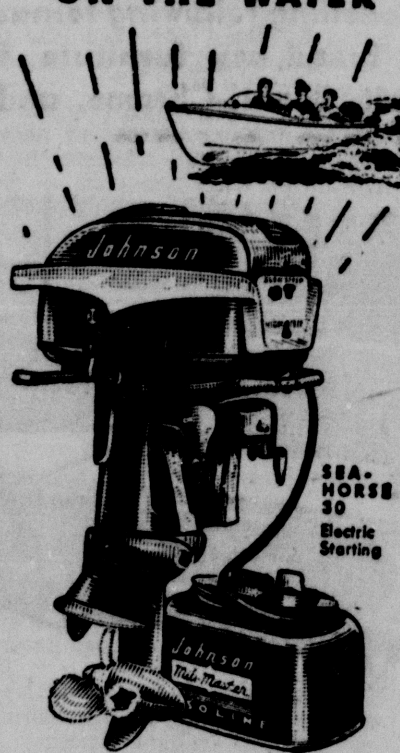

Poland Purge Hits Three More

LONDON (U)—Poland's Communist regime announced today it had fired three top government officials in the second satellite purge of leaders who committed the sin of "Stalinism." It listed them as: Stanislaw Radkiewicz, minister of state farms. Stefan Kalinowski, prosecutor general. Stanislaw Zarakowski, the chief military prosecutor general. Warsaw radio announced the men were being relieved of their posts "in connection with the discovery of serious deficiencies which have occurred in recent years."

Tortoise shell is derived from thin, bony plates that overlap to cover the carapace, or back, of the marine hawksbill turtle.

Legion to Play Evansville All-Stars Here Sunday

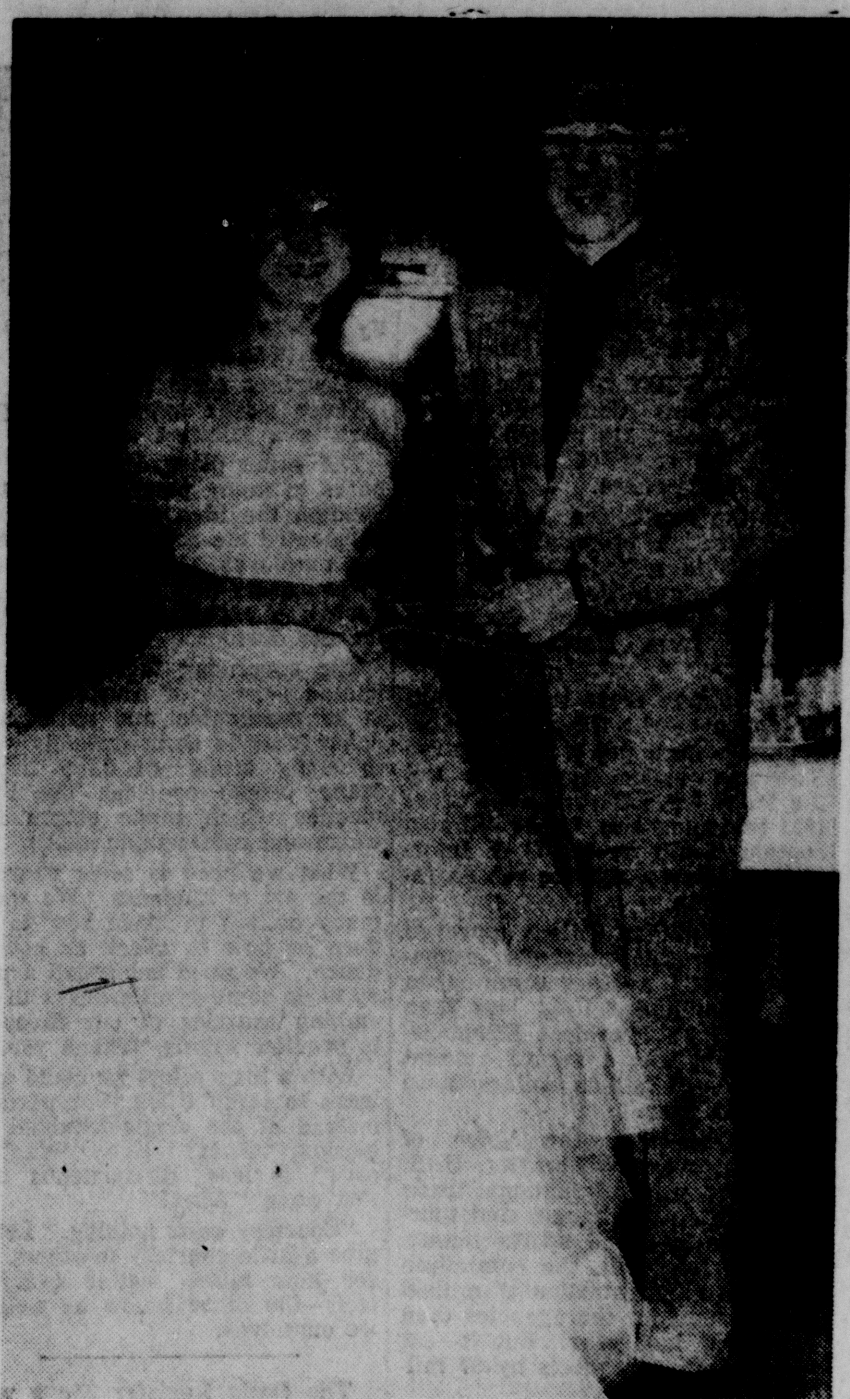

Semi-pro baseball will get underway here Sunday afternoon when the Harrisburg Legion-Stars meet the Evansville All-Stars in a game at the new ball field near the fairgrounds. In a late season game last year the locals shaded the All-Stars 1 to 0 at the town park diamond.

Gene Stone, manager of the locals expects to get a general idea of what his proteges will look like for the coming season in this game. Three practice sessions this spring have worked out well despite the inclement weather and the team expects to be in pretty good condition for this fracas.

Among the likely starters for the locals will be Dick Romonosky, Bill McNew, Bob Dallas, Dick Odle, Don Karnes, Ronnie Ziegler, Harold Gulley, Ken Nolen, Don Stout and Rod Smith. Others who are likely participants include Ray Sisk, Don Wallace, Jim Parton, Jim Lay, and Frank Logsdon.

The visitors will probably have Nichols, a hard throwing right hander on the mound. It was Nichols who held the locals to four hits last season in dropping the 1-0 contest.

The game will get underway at 2 p. m. barring a postponement due to weather conditions.

BEAUTY AND THE BALL PLAYER. Miss Faye Williams, Basketball Queen at Eldorado Township High School, presents Ronnie Clark with free throw trophy at cage banquet Thursday evening. Clark, guard and co-captain of the team, won the trophy for having the highest percentage of free throws of any member of the varsity basketball team during the season just completed. The trophy remains at the school and each season the player leading at the free throw line has his name engraved on it. The trophy has been in existence for about eight years.

Score Drops 2-Hitter, 1-0, To Harshman and Chisox; Redlegs Beat Out Cards

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Into that very special niche reserved for classic pitching duels went the memorable battle of Jack Harshman and Herb Score today, and despite the tingling tenseness of the double two-hitter, the White Sox lefty figured all the way to beat Cleveland's sophomore southpaw. And the Sox won, 1 to 0.

Last year, when Harshman won 11 games for the season, five of his victories were over the Indians and each was a standout performance. And Score, who won four of the year honors with 16 victories, lost three times to the White Sox. There were only two clubs, the White Sox and Yankees, that he didn't beat. In his 1955 triumphs over Cleveland, Harshman never yielded more than two runs and he had a three-hitter, a four-hitter, and three five-hit jobs. On two other occasions he was beaten, being kayoed early.

In Thursday's battle Score had visions of a no-hitter, even after Chicago scored the only run of the game in the seventh on a walk to Minnie Minoso, a two-base wild pitch, and Larry Doby's sacrifice fly. It wasn't until the eighth, when Walt Dropo opened with a single, that the spell was broken. Luis Aparicio followed with another single and that was it.

None Beyond Second

Oddly, the two hits yielded by Harshman also were in succession to Bobby Avila and Al Smith in the fourth. No runner got beyond second. Harshman struck out five, walked only two. Score struck out 10 but walked five.

There was fine pitching elsewhere in the American league at Detroit. Bobby Shantz, another lefty, gave Kansas City a heartening performance when he held the Tigers to five hits and a 4-1 triumph that indicated his arm is sound again. Young Tom Brewer two-hit the Orioles at Boston in a 4-2 triumph and Chuck Stobbs, one of two pitchers left on the Washington roster who beat the Yankees last season, turned in a seven-hit 7-3 win over them.

But it was mainly a hitter's day in the National, especially at Cincinnati where there were eight homers in a 10-inning 10-9 triumph for the Redlegs over St. Louis.

The Dodgers pounded out a 5-4 come-from-behind triumph over the Phillies in 10 innings at Jersey City and the Pirates edged the Giants, 3-2. Bob Buhl pitched Milwaukee to a 3-1 triumph over Chicago.

Kansas City scored all of its runs for Shantz in the fifth on a succession of five singles and a sacrifice by Bobby himself. Earl Torgeson's home run for Detroit prevented a shutout.

Mickey Vernon broke a 2-all tie with a two-run double in the fifth to supply Brewer with his victory margin in a duel with Erv Palica. Two undistinguished hitters, Jim Lemon and Ed Fitzgerald, each collected three blows including a homer apiece in Washington's triumph. Stobbs, who won only four games last year, beat the Yankees twice.

Post Ices Game
Wally Post's bases-loaded single was good for two runs and victory for Cincinnati. He hit it off reliever Ellis Kinder, the same hurler who struck him out in a similar game-ending situation on Tuesday.

Bill Sarni with two and Stan Musial and Wally Moon hit Card homers. Ray Jablonski with a grand slammer and Post, Ted Kluszewski and Smoky Burgess homered for the Redlegs.

Roy Campanella's 1,000th big league hit, a double, drove in one run and Rube Walker brought in the other with a sacrifice fly in Brooklyn's triumph. Gil Hodges' grand slam double brought in the three earlier runs.

Ronnie Kline pitched seven hit ball as the Bucs came from behind with two runs in the seventh to beat Allan Worthington in a tight duel. Frank Thomas singled home what proved to be the winning run in the eighth, offsetting a Giant homer by Daryl Spencer in the ninth.

Give 6 Varsity Cage Letters at Eldorado Event

All Are Seniors;
Ron Clark Awarded
Free Throw Trophy

Eldorado high school basketball players, cheerleaders and others were guests of honor at the annual lettermen's banquet at Eldorado Township High School Thursday evening. The affair was held in the ETHS cafeteria.

Head Coach Al Adams awarded six varsity letters, three sophomores received letters and six freshmen were honored.

Varsity letter winners — all seniors — were Ronnie Clark, Frank Willis, Lindell Lovellette, Bob Laffoon, Ronnie Stroke and Bob Watson. Gary Cawthon received a manager's letter.

Adams, in making the presentations, stated this was the smallest group to receive varsity awards in his nine years at Eldorado.

Ronnie Clark, guard and co-captain, was the squad's leading scorer at the free throw line, with a .730 percentage for the year, and received the free throw trophy. The presentation was made by Miss Faye Williams, Basketball Queen for the 1955-56 season.

Sophomore Award

James Wood, Carl Justice and Lyndell Prather were the only sophomores to receive soph letters. Coach Charles Leonard stated the soph group was small at the start and became even smaller as the season continued due to scholastic and other difficulties. The soph group had to call on a number of juniors to round out the squad for its games. The juniors weren't lettered. Leonard said, as they had received similar letters previously. Jay Flanders received a soph manager's letter.

Six freshmen received their awards, with Coach Gene Haile making the presentations. Letter winners were Charles McCallister, Larry Moore, Mike McMahon, Tom Baugher, Jack Fowler and John Allen. Linwood Chandler was freshman manager.

Coach Adams, indirectly, urged a return to "sport for sport's sake" and a break away from the idea of "win them all."

Says Pressure Great

"We had a winning season, 15 victories and nine losses, including a tournament championship, but the players didn't escape criticism. The pressure is too great on the players. They are expected to win every game."

"It is an unfortunate situation. I wonder if it hasn't ceased to be fun. The players work hard and make sacrifices, but the fans are 'on' them every time they lose. You're a hero if you win and a bum if you lose."

"We should begin to respect our opponents and give them credit for winning, not blame our boys every time they lose," Adams stated.

W. A. Knoop, ETHS principal, was master of ceremonies at the banquet to which all basketball players, cheerleaders, the Basketball Queen and her Court, members of the Board of education and other specially invited persons were guests.

Rev. Raymond L. Brown, pastor of the Restitution church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Ron Williams Falls in Race, Hurts Shoulder

Ron Williams, HTHS senior athlete, suffered a shoulder injury when he fell while running the half mile in a dual track meet at Marion yesterday afternoon.

Reports were that he suffered a separation where the collar bone joins at the joint of the shoulder.

Williams was to have a specialist examine the injury to determine what should be done, it was reported by Ben Channess, track coach.

After Fastest Race in History, What? A Dance

BOSTON (AP) — A Finnish artillery sergeant wanted to go dancing after running the fastest marathon in recorded history.

"Let's go dancing," 27-year-old Antti Viskari said Thursday through an interpreter after posting a time of 2:14.14 for the 26 mile, 385-yard run.

"I could have run another five or 10 kilometers," he said, "but maybe not so fast."

Take Your Pick on TV Battle Winner

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two mid-dleweights with aggressive styles and high aspirations clashed tonight in a nationally televised and broadcast 10-round bout.

Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, and Ralph Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., had the odds-makers in a tizzy during their final training periods here. The money, 6-5 on Fullmer up to Wednesday, gradually slipped to the same price on Jones the next day, and was expected to fluctuate right through the playing of the National Anthem.

Continuous miners, first introduced commercially into bituminous mines in 1948, have rapidly won a place in America's highly mechanized mining industry. Where only 8.2 million tons were mined with continuous miners in 1952, the 1955 total was 25 million tons.

Alabama Athletes End Walkout, Get More Liberal Training Regulations

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Ninety-two rebellious University of Alabama athletes ended their walkout from their rent-free dormitory today after a compromise on their demands for more liberal training regulations.

The players and Athletic Director Hank Crisp came to terms at a meeting Thursday afternoon. "We're all happy now," Crisp said. "It's all over." He also released a joint statement calling the furor a "misunderstanding."

The athletes, all on standard Southeastern Conference scholarships, walked out Tuesday night and threatened never to return if coaches did not stop treating them like "children."

The compromise, which ended a threat to the sports program, was actually a reversion to old training regulations set down by players some four years ago.

The revolt, long smoldering, was hastened Monday when coaches announced stricter rules following an automobile wreck early Sunday in which five players were involved. The accident occurred at 3 a. m. when the men should have been in bed.

Group Votes 110 Millions to Combat Red Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted a record 110 million dollars to tell the story of America to people everywhere.

But the committee rejected an administration proposal to spend $3,800,000 to remodel an aircraft carrier into a floating outdoor movie house to show Cinemas in ports from North Africa to Japan.

The actions came with committee approval of a 598-million-dollar appropriations bill to finance the State and Justice departments and the federal judiciary during fiscal 1957 beginning July 1. The bill also contains funds for the U. S. Information Agency and the refugee relief program.

The 110 million dollars approved to finance this country's propaganda battle against communism was 25 million dollars less than requested by President Eisenhower. But it was a record amount for USA—22 million dollars more than last year.

USIA operates the Voice of America, overseas libraries, U. S. participation in international trade fairs, student exchanges and touring orchestras and sports teams.

In the total bill, the committee gave the administration 47 million dollars more for the agencies than was spent last year. But it cut administration requests by 57 million dollars.

Youth Takes Over State Gov't; Officers Elected

They will consider 63 bills today and vote on them Saturday.

The youths were sworn into office by Robert L. Conn, clerk of the 3rd District Appellate Court.

Other youth officials were George Waddell, Chicago, lieutenant governor; David Pogue, Macomb, House speaker; Steve Thomas, Peoria, Senate secretary; Patricia Smith, Elmhurst, House clerk; Marta Carlson, Chicago, Senate chaplain; Roger Kendall, Decatur, House chaplain; Robert Broadway, Joliet, Senate sergeant-at-arms; and Gordon Kaplan, Chicago, House sergeant-at-arms.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

These words appear on a placard in a Midwest airport.

The same placard probably appears in many places, but in this location the idea seemed to have permeated the activity of the smiling employees. These people are so courteous that the motto is not necessary except as a background for the obvious.

The surprising fact is that the human service of courtesy which is so reasonable and so free of dollar cost is comparatively rare in many areas of daily living. Many people overlook the little niceties which make others feel warm and comfortable inside.

What we need is some exercise in the art of kindness. We spend many dollars to learn how to reduce or how to speak or how to dance. We need not spend a penny to do some gymnastics with the smiling muscles of our faces or to practice saying "Thank you."

With a little effort we could even learn to say, "I beg your pardon" instead of the single-syllabled explosion, "What?" Even "Wha-ya-say?" is less discourteous than just plain "What?"

"Courtesy costs nothing." Let us give a little courtesy to others and see how much better everyone feels—the other fellow as well as we ourselves.
